

LATIN AMERICA

Promoting Clean Tech Opportunities in the Maritime Industry in Latin America

Latin America is a growing hub of opportunities in the infrastructure and transportation sectors. Local governments have been working hard to promote a better business environment to foreign companies that wish to do business in the region and provide innovative technologies and solutions, especially if that also means better options for addressing climate change challenges.

The U.S. Commercial Service is promoting the U.S. Go Green & Blue Initiative Latin America that aims to bring together the U.S. private sector with Latin America's leaders and other key private sector players in the maritime industry to exchange best practices and discuss business opportunities for clean technologies and solutions in logistics and maritime transportation.

This initiative will take place during the 2022 American Association of Port Authorities (AAPA) Latino Conference in Santos, Brazil, November 28-30. Every year, more than 400 port leaders and international experts make this event stand out as one of the most relevant business gatherings for the ports industry.

Please join us to learn more about this initiative and how the U.S. Commercial Service and other U.S. Government agencies can help your business thrive when looking to do business in Latin America.

U.S.
COMMERCIAL SERVICE
United States of America
Department of Commerce

Register today to hear from the International Trade Administration's Under Secretary Marisa Lago, Brazilian Secretary of Ports Mario Povia and other U.S. Government representatives!

Event Date: June 23rd

Time: 2:00 – 3:30 PM (EDT)

Location: Virtual

For more information,
please contact:
Fabiola Rios
Fabiola.Rios@trade.gov